Easy, online process for small firms and solo practitioners

Lisle, IL – (Oct. 15, 2013) – Protexure Lawyers, a comprehensive professional liability insurance program from AmerInst Professional Services, Ltd., has created a new process that makes it easier than ever for tech-savvy lawyers to renew their coverage. No more multi-page paper applications where you fill in information you provided in the past or respond to endless questions that do not pertain to your practice. The new short form application renewal policy can be completed online, with the option to use a credit card to pay the premium.

“Small law firms are looking for simplicity and ease in the way they do business,” says Kyle Nieman, President and CEO of AmerInst Professional Services. “We are enhancing their experience with short form electronic application renewal policies that are prefilled in with their information. Policyholders have their own personalized renewal link and profile page. Smart lawyers can manage their account 24/7 online - or, if they prefer, call our licensed specialists who are waiting to help.”

Every lawyer – even a solo practitioner – deserves to have a professional liability policy that protects their business and provides coverage that is tailored to meet their needs.
